

Who wrote this?

John Calhoun

Mikhail Bakunin

Karl Marx

Necessity of recognizing the right of secession:
Every individual, every association, every town, every region, every nation has the absolute right to self-determination, to associate or not to associate, to ally themselves with whomever they wish and repudiate their alliances without regard to so-called historic rights or the convenience of their neighbors.